Introduction

David Krynauw Design (DKD) is a South African wood technology company led by internationally recognised designer David Krynauw. David has been designing and manufacturing solid wood furniture since 2007 and has exhibited and won awards for his work both locally and abroad.

Base of Manufacturing Excellence

DKD was formed in 2021 to develop and manufacture products and services across the entire timber value chain, from producing building components and office desking to rare, singular, high-value pieces that can be traded as art. Our ethos of “grow, design, build” is focused on using timber to support an ecosystem of globally competitive design talent and highly skilled and specialized local manufacturing jobs serving the local and international market. Doing this will also allow us to contribute to the Environment and Social components of our ESG goals.
