2. Legal basis and purpose of the processing of personal data

The purpose of us processing personal data is to liaise with our customers, potential customers, employees and interest groups. All the data is collected and used within the limits defined by the applicable data protection legislation.

3. Contents of the register

The information stored in the register may contain following information, either partly of in full:

- Full name
- Company information
- Professional title
- Email address
- Postal address
- Phone number
- Nationality
- Information pertaining to purchases, orders and payments, such as invoicing address, and payment details

Data is retained during the account relationship, employment relationship or recruitment process.

4. Regular sources of information

The information stored in the register can be obtained by e-mail, in which he or she will disclose their data.

5. Regular disclosures and transfer of data outside the EU or EEA

The information will not be disclosed to other parties without the consent of the registrant. The data is not transferred outside the EU or EEA by the controller either.

6. Principles of the protection of the register

The electronic contact is printed only if necessary. Any paper prints are destroyed immediately after processing.

The read, send, and delete permissions for e-mail messages are restricted to persons whose work is to handle them.

7. Right of inspection and right to request correction of information

Each person in the Register has the right to review his or her data stored in the register and to request the correction of any inaccurate information or the completion of incomplete information. If a person wishes to check or request an adjustment of the information stored about him, the request shall be sent in writing to the controller. Where appropriate, the controller may request the applicant to prove his identity. The controller is responsible for the customer within the time limit set in the EU data Protection regulation (usually within a month).

8. Other rights relating to the processing of personal data

The person in the Register has the right to request the deletion of personal data concerning him or her from the register ("right to be forgotten"). Similarly, data subjects have other rights under the EU General Data protection regulation, such as restricting the processing of personal data in certain circumstances. Requests shall be sent in writing to the controller. Where appropriate, the controller may request the applicant to prove his identity. The controller is responsible for the customer within the time limit set in the EU data Protection regulation (usually within a month).

9. Automated decision making and profiling

We do not use data for automated decision making or profiling.

10. Cookies
