LAUGFS Gas Announces Domestic LPG Price Revision Amid Escalating Global Market Pressures

LAUGFS Gas PLC announces a revision of domestic LPG prices in response to the continued escalation of global LPG procurement and logistics costs driven by ongoing geopolitical developments and currency fluctuations.

Over recent weeks, international LPG prices have remained under sustained pressure due to the combined impact of global supply disruptions, increasing product prices, and volatility across energy markets arising from the ongoing geopolitical conflict situation affecting key international trade and energy corridors.

In addition, fluctuations in the exchange rate have significantly impacted the landed cost of LPG imports to Sri Lanka, further increasing the overall procurement burden on the industry.

Global logistics and freight costs have also continued to rise due to disruptions across major shipping routes, vessel availability constraints, elevated insurance premiums, and longer transit lead times in international supply chains. These conditions have directly affected the cost of importing and distributing LPG to Sri Lankan consumers.

Despite absorbing a substantial portion of these additional costs internally, the prevailing market conditions have necessitated a price adjustment in order to ensure uninterrupted supply continuity, operational sustainability, and the maintenance of the highest standards of safety and service across the nationwide distribution network.

Accordingly, LAUGFS Gas PLC announces the following revised refill prices for Colombo District, effective from midnight (07 May 2026).

Cylinder Size	Current Price (LKR)	Increased Amount (LKR)	New Price (LKR)
12.5kg	5,700	545	6,245
5kg	2,280	220	2,500

The above prices are applicable for the Colombo District only. District-wise prices may vary based on transportation and distribution costs.

LAUGFS Gas remains committed to ensuring uninterrupted LPG availability to domestic, commercial, and industrial customers across Sri Lanka despite the challenging global operating environment.

Customers seeking further information regarding district-wise prices or product availability may contact the LAUGFS Gas hotline on 1345.
