DODGE AS68RC COOLER LINE RETAINING CLIPS

COMPLAINT: The Dodge AS68RC transmission cooler lines are held into the cooler line fitting by retaining clips, Figure 1. These clips can be damaged or lost which means replacing them which creates a problem for the shop.

CAUSE: These retaining clips are larger than most applications using this type of retainer which means new clips will have to be bought unless good used clips can be located.
These retaining clips are sold by the dealer only with the cooler line fitting to which they are secured. These cooler fittings are $86.25 each as of the time this bulletin was written.

CORRECTION: Care should be exercised not to damage or lose the retaining clips. If they can not be reused, new cooler line fittings will have to be acquired.
