

BNB CASH FINANCE

Technical Whitepaper

● BINANCE CASH FINANCE

BNBCF is token that was created in 2021 by the Binance Smart Chain (BEP20) network.

It is a major development, which saw the launch of the key feature that enables transactions on the blockchain.

A human-readable smart contract language designed specifically for BSC contracts with powerful security features including full formal verification of user code, error messages, contract update, support for interoperability, and strong permissions and access control.

BNBCF adds a private key to the process, since its inception in 2021, it has expanded the technical and market bases according to a roadmap that extends to 2022 and beyond.

● MISSION & VISION

Bnbcf was developed with the idea of capitalizing on a high-value, long-term market, in order to create a more secure and reliable environment in the crypto community.

The development focuses on security and safety features.

The ability to make transactions quickly and easily, makes it possible to invest in a safe and secure way for the long term.

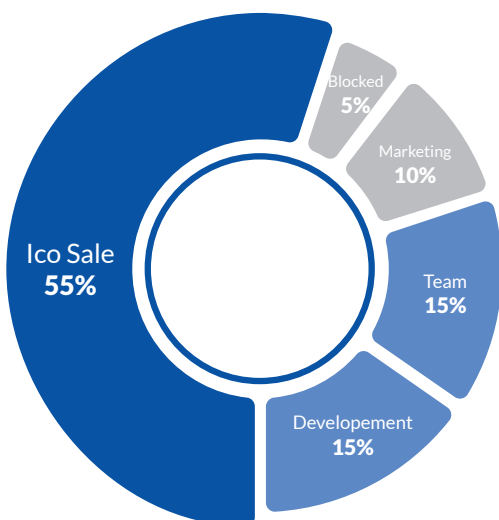

Valuation of the project

As a first investment, the valuation of BNBCF started in the private stage at $0.001 with a sale of 50%, achieving 25% of it.

By the public stage we already had a valuation of $0.0025, generating $2,500,000 in volume on the first day and 500 participants in the purchase of the BNBCF token.

Our goal is to have BNBCF capture a valuation of $5 per BNBCF unit.

● RISK

A large project carries with it a great deal of responsibility, which is why it is necessary to add this.

It is possible that our roadmap may have variations or changes within the stretch of the project, due to certain situations, permits, negotiations and project processes, such as:

- Market variation
- Market capitalization
- Exchange or swap permits
- Resignation of a member of the project
- Theft or hacking of tokens, through the contract.

Given this knowledge, we also expect that the whole project order will go out as it was added from the beginning.
