

You should have seen me...

You should have seen me

When the world was young--song--maybe it medleys into something fun and instrumental and everyone is clapping, the lady is tap dancing? Like right after the sadness.. Someone says.. Hey! Listen! And someone starts to bang out something super fun on the piano..

You shoulda seen me as a younger man
Singing & dancing I led a ragtime band
You shoulda seen me so many years ago

You shoulda seen me when I was in my prime
So charming, so dapper – it's been a long long time
You shoulda seen me, when the world was young

You shoulda seen me when I was on the stage
Name on the marquis at such a tender age
You should have seen me to many years ago

You shoulda seen me a starlet in the lights
Out there signing autographs & staying out all night
You shoulda seen me when the world was young

(Together)

You shoulda known us when we were just kids
Going where we went & doin' what we did
You shoulda known us so many years ago

You shoulda known us so many years ago
You shoulda known us, but you'll never know
You shoulda known us, when the world was
