Ceci (known as “Ceci.Does.Art” or “Ceci.Does.Poetry”) is a Shreveport based self-taught visual artist, poet, published author, and jewelry maker who navigates art and poetry with an insatiable curiosity. Each stroke of her brush or pen stroke in her notebook becomes an intimate conversation between herself and her piece. Guided by her peers, local influence, inner visions, and emotions, she explores the depths of her experiences, inspirations, and ideas turning them into vibrant visual and literary expressions.

Her self-taught background and experience in Shreveport’s local art scene has allowed her to break away from established norms and conventions, encouraging her to explore new techniques, mediums, perspectives and writing styles. She is constantly pushing personal boundaries, infusing her creations with a sense of rawness and authenticity.
