

- SOME THOUGHTS ON -

STYLE

A ZINE BY KIRK!

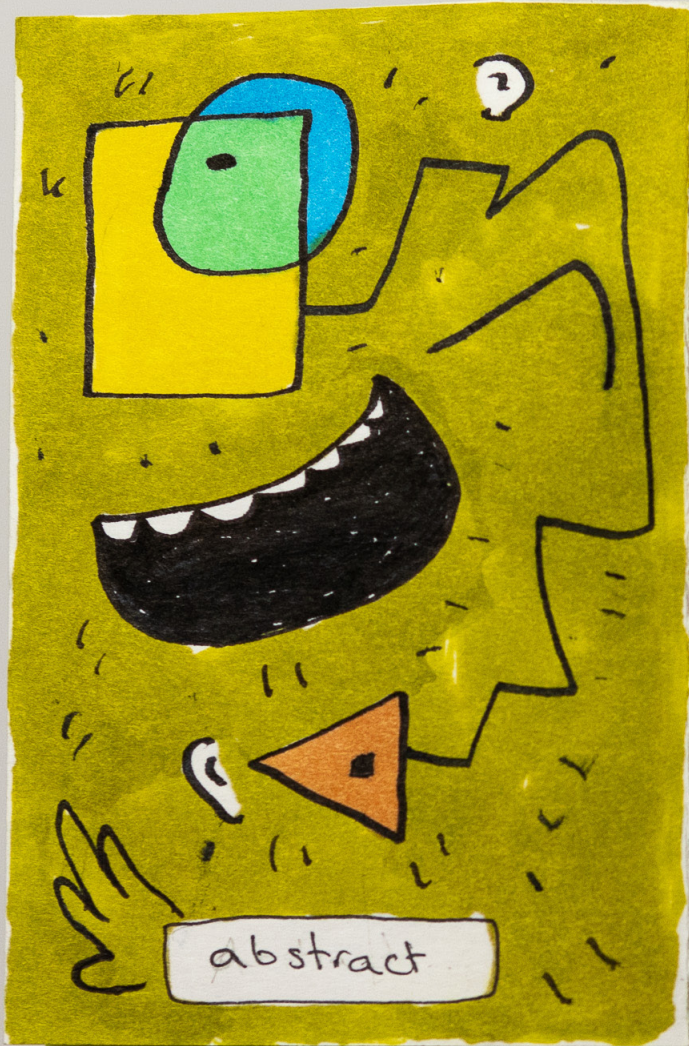

As a young artist
I was convinced that I had to find the perfect style -
the look that would define my entire career. It would be me, and I, in turn, would be it.

Only recently have
I learned that idea
is ridiculous.

I can be cartoony

or realistic

abstract

or somewhere inbetween.

It doesn't matter
how I render - that's all equally - part of me.
What actually matters
is whether or not I have anything to say.
and if I can communicate
it effectively.
