

MACARONI PIE

A ZINE BY KIRK!

No one remembers
where the recipe came
from, or when my family started making it, but Macaroni Pie has been a staple food for generations
during holiday gatherings.

My mother and aunt learned the recipe from their father who learned it his mother and his aunt, Bertha.

And, in turn, my mother taught it to my brother and me.

Mom passed away a few years ago, so now, when I'm in town for holidays, my brother and I handle the recipe.

Until we pass on the recipe for macaroni pie.
