Sholom u'brocho:

Some time ago, I received word from Rabbi Raichik that you were experiencing some difficulties in business. I trust everything is in satisfactory order, and I would be gratified to hear that this is so.

Mrs. Weksler no doubt conveyed to you my regards on her return from her visit here. Apparently, your intention to be here has not yet materialized itself. I shall look forward to the good opportunity to make your personal acquaintance.

In these days, before and after Tisha b'Av, reminding us strongly of the destruction of the Beth Hamikdash, we are also filled with greater hope and faith in the Geulo Shlomo and the rebuilding of the Beth Hamikdash. The preparation for that time is that every one should make his maximum effort in discharging his responsibilities toward the support of 'Mikdoshim-Me'at' during our days of exile, and they are the institutions of kosher education and the truly orthodox synagogues. When every one does his utmost in this direction, we are speeding the Geulo Shlomo for Klal Yisroel.

With prayerful wishes that you have good news to inform of your wellbeing and in all matters,

Cordially yours
