Greeting and Blessing:

I duly received your letter of July 31, and want you to know that I appreciate very much the regards which you have conveyed to me. I was, moreover, impressed to note the warmth with which you delivered the message, all of which once again confirms the close bonds which intimately unite all Jews regardless of geographical distances separating them, and the conditions under which they live.

By the same token, I am reminded of a thought expressed by my father-in-law of saintly memory, of whose life and work you must have surely heard, to the effect that one of the ways whereby one Jew can help another is to accentuate in his own personal life those things whereby the other Jew lives and which constitute his ideal in life. I trust that the contact which you have made, seemingly by chance but undoubtedly by the design of Divine Providence, will inspire you to increase your efforts in strengthening the way of life for which so many of our fellow Jews are actually making the supreme self-sacrifice. Efforts in this direction are bound to be fruitful, for it is a matter of experience every day that Jews are responsive if one makes a sincere effort to reach their heart.

Once again, many thanks for the regards and message.

With blessing

M. Schneerson
