Greeting and Blessing:

I received your letter of Erev Succoth and the previous ones.

As requested, I will remember you in prayer for the fulfillment of your heart's desires for good.

With regard to your idea about becoming an author, the first thing to do would be to consult with those who are familiar in the publishing field, for it is possible that the subject which you have in mind to write about may already have been fully covered, and even if not, it is still doubtful whether it would command sufficient interest so as to provide a demand for such a book. It would also be well to consult with a person who knows you personally, and who could tell you if the effort and concentration which the writing of such a book requires are even within your capacities.

In general, however, it is my opinion that the writing of books is not something in which young men of your age should engage, regardless of the subject.

With regard to the question of a Shidduch, I believe I have written to you before that you should consult with, and obtain the cooperation of, friends in your environment. [your doctor]

Hoping to hear good news from you, and wishing you a happy Yom Tov

With blessing

(Because of Chol Hamoed, the letter is unsigned)
