Blessing and Greeting:

After not hearing from you for some time, I just received your letter of March 26th, which was unusually late in coming, for some reason. I hope to hear from you further good news in all the matters about which you write.

A growing measure of trust in G-d, and every additional effort to live the daily life in accordance with His Will, in addition to being a must for their own sake, will bring you and yours an additional measure of G-d's blessings.

During these days, we all hope and pray for the time when these days will be transformed into days of gladness and rejoicing.

With blessing
