Greeting and Blessing:

I duly received your letters.

I hope that you spent the various holy days and festivals of Tishrei in an inspiring way, inasmuch as the month of Tishrei and its festivals are "general", in the sense that they are a source of inspiration for the whole year. It is certainly significant that the festivals of the month of Tishrei conclude on the happy note of Simchas Torah, rejoicing with the Torah.

I trust that you will carry this joy of the Torah and Mitzvoth into every day of the year, the essential thing being that this joy should express itself in every aspect of the daily life in a practical way, in daily conduct. Please convey these sentiments as well as my personal regards to all your friends.

With blessing
