

By the Grace of G-d
Erev Rosh Chodesh Shevat,
5734. Brooklyn, N.Y.

To the Students of Form 5
Girls Grammar School,
Lubavitch House,
109-115 Stamford Hill,
London, N.16, England

Blessing and Greeting:

I was pleased to receive your letter and school magazine. It is evident that you put in a great deal of effort into this magazine, and may G-d grant that you should go from strength to strength in all your activities, both for your own advancement and benefit, as well as for the benefit of others who are inspired by your example.

Above all, I hope and pray that you will proudly live up to your great privilege and responsibility as students of the Lubavitch Grammar School for Girls, and be a credit to it.

No doubt you know of the significance of Yud Shevat which we will soon observe, and will be further inspired by all that this day brings to mind about the life and work of my father-in-law of saintly memory, and his especial dedication for Torah-true Chinuch of Jewish boys as well as of Jewish girls. May the inspiration of this forthcoming day be with you throughout the year.

With blessing,

Signed: M. SCHNEERSON.
