ABOUT RETIA

Based in the town of Pardubice, RETIA is a leading Czech manufacturer of world-class radar technology and electronic systems.

The company was founded in late 1993 by a team of engineers, associates who gained experience in the famous Czechoslovak company Tesla Pardubice.

For customers in the Czech Republic and in more than 40 countries worldwide, it develops, manufactures and upgrades radars, systems for surface-to-air missiles, command and control systems, recording systems, UWB locating devices and communication systems.

The international significance of the Pardubice-based company is evidenced by the fact that more than two thirds of RETIA's revenues are gained through the export of its products abroad, both in the civil and military spheres.
