AIR NAVIGATION WORLD 2023

Shaping the skies of tomorrow:
addressing key issues and technologies
in air navigation and safety

28 to 31 August 2023 | Montréal, Canada

This inaugural event will address the future technologies and procedures that will support the evolution of the aviation system. We will have an open dialogue on the operational and implementation challenges of air navigation and safety solutions with all stakeholders, including governments and industry.

Mark your calendars – be part of the discussion!
