1,5 mil. € EU Grant for the development of Rayscape TAP CT

Non-dilutive financing on behalf of the EU to accelerate the development of Rayscape TAP CT, its next-generation AI solution for medical imaging.

A company affiliated with the Rayscape founding team has been awarded a €1.5 million non-dilutive European grant to accelerate the development of Rayscape TAP CT, its next-generation AI solution for medical imaging.

The financing is non-dilutive: it does not change the shareholding structure and it does not dilute investors.

Why it matters?

Solid companies are not only seeking private capital. They also attract competitive public funding, which validates both the technology and the team's ability to execute.

What this means for an investor?

- Quicker product development
- Shorter time to market
- Better odds of taking the first-mover position in a growing market.

What is next?

The round remains open on Growceanu until the 20th of September.

The investment terms, the round structure and the associated risks are described in full on the campaign page.
