

Start With Fiverr

How do you actually apply?

First thing you need to do is to practice a lot.

You need to get a series of examples,

Nobody cares about your resume.

The best way to get examples? Do them for free.

Create marketplace accounts such as Upwork or fiverr.

Pick your expertise

Do free work for your close friends and family members, ramp up experience.

Every single morning, midday and night

Of course, you'll start from a low point, you have to earn your reputation.

SEO = Search engine optimization

Seek out job descriptions, the earlier you apply to them, the more likely they are to read your application.

Doing work in advance > Doing work only if you're paid

You have to crush your first gig, it's your permanent first impression.

If you crush one, you'll get two, all the way to big gigs.

Questions:

How do you increase your chances of getting hired?

How do you increase your rating using close friends & family?