VARANASI: Team Averera, an undergraduate automobile research team from IIT-BHU is going to compete at the Shell Eco-marathon Asia-2019 at Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. The team has been working under Centre for Energy and Resources Development (a scheme of MHRD).

The team has been employing innovative technologies to design and develop ultra-energy efficient electric vehicles. The team consists of 15 members from various disciplines of IIT-BHU, and till now they have benchmarked their vehicle as India's most energy efficient electric vehicle.

The team is now prepared to compete at the Shell Eco-marathon going to be held from April 29- May 2. The team has accordingly shipped their vehicle to the event site at Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. This is a pan-continent energy efficiency competition which challenges student in colleges to innovate and apply their knowledge to develop energy efficient vehicles.

The Director Prof PK Jain and Coordinator Centre for Energy and Resources Development Prof ASK Sinha wished them well for the upcoming event.
