'TECHNEX 19' STARTED @ IIT-BHU (VARANASI)

The first day of 80th Edition of IIT (BHU) Technex '19 was organized in four parts called 'drone-tech', 'momentum', 'la-Trajec-toire', 'd'aero-glisseur', in which students from different colleges, participated. The most interesting one was the drone competition in which radio controlled drones took a flight in the air, to bag a 1.25 lakh of prize money. By placing a robot in the pixelated, the participants solved the problem of aliens in the coming years by solving a Ludo game, with the image processing technique. Riqueza, under Technex, organized the round two of Krackat, a Mock CAT based examination in IIT (BHU) Varanasi. In a hackathon, a 9-hour continuous app development competition was organized, many coders from different parts of the country participated to show their app development skill. International coding marathon of 2 hours was organized in fully online mode in codechef.com. Prizes for more than Rs 50,000 distributed in the competition.
