

Pixel True Premium Illustrations Pack Guide

By purchasing illustrations created by Pixel True Studio you will be given a license to use these files under certain conditions.

Important ⚠

This license only applies if you downloaded this content as a lifetime member or bought this pack directly on our site.

You are free to use the illustrations:

- For both personal and commercial projects and to modify them.
- In a website or presentation template or application or as part of your design.

You are not allowed to:

- Sub-license, resell or rent it.
- Include it in any online or offline archive or database.

Read the full terms here: <https://www.pixeltrue.com/license>

Content

Each folder for this pack contains AI, SVG, and PNG files.

Static

Note:

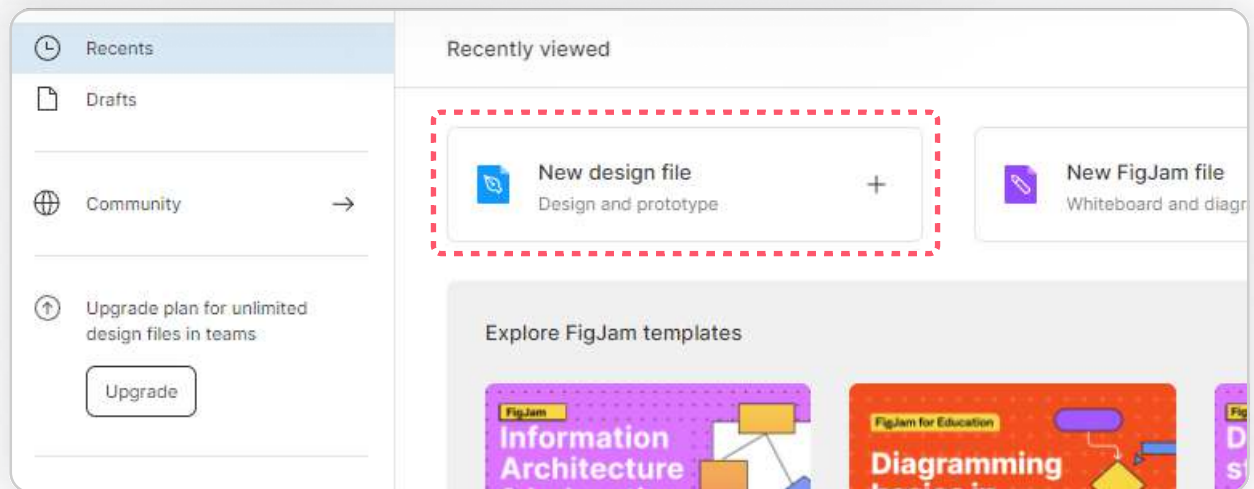

- All illustrations that have an animated version will have a “_Animated” tag added to the folder name.
- Animated illustrations have JSON files added to the folder. For older illustrations, MP4 and GIF files are included instead of JSON. We just recently switched to Lottie animation in 2022.

How to Change Colors of Illustrations

If you want to change the colors of the illustrations in bulk, you can do it using Figma. Here's a guide on how you can do it.

Step 1: Go to Figma.com. Login or Sign up if you don't have an account yet. Once you're already logged in, click New Design File

Step 2: Select and Drag the SVG file into Figma.

Step 3: Make sure that you have selected the frame of the illustration by clicking the frame group on the left panel under Layers, or by dragging your mouse over the whole illustration

Step 4: On the right panel under Selection Colors, click the See all colors. This will display all colors used in the illustration

Expanded list of selection colors

Step 5: Hover over each color and you will see the crosshair icon. When clicked, it will highlight all items using this color. This can help you pick and change the colors to your liking. You can edit colors by group like this, or you can also edit the color of any item if you want to.
