

Privacy Policy

Journal is highly committed in protecting and maintaining privacy and confidentiality of your information. This Privacy Policy governs the way journal collects, uses, maintains and discloses information collected from users (each, a 'User') of Journal. This privacy policy applies to mobile applications and all products and services offered by Alpha Apps Sol. This policy outlines our personal information handling practices for both online and offline data. We adhere to the following principles to protect your privacy:

- We do not rent or sell your personally identifiable information to third parties for any purposes, including marketing purposes.
- Any personally identifiable information that you provide will be secured and will not be shared or uploaded to any other database or storage except the user's device.

Alpha Apps Sol has the discretion to update this privacy policy at any time. We encourage users to frequently check this page for any changes to stay informed about how we are helping to protect the personal information we collect. You acknowledge and agree that it is your responsibility to review this privacy policy periodically and become aware of modifications. Also, if updated, a prompt will be displayed to inform all the users of the update of the policy.

Customer data

Alpha Apps Sol will not share, distribute, or reference any customer data except as provided in the Terms of Use Agreement for rendering the required services to you, or as may be required by law. Individual records of Customer Data may be viewed or accessed only for the purpose of resolving a problem, support issues, or suspected violation of the Terms of Use Agreement, or as may be required by law. We would take all reasonable precautions for maintaining confidentiality of data. You may provide us with certain personal information, which we collect to provide some services. If you have any hesitation about providing such information to us, you can still use the application as a user.

Identification information

Journal may collect personal and non-personal identification information about users whenever they interact with the application. Personal and non-personal identification information may include the user's name, age, date of birth, gender etc. Users may, however, use the application anonymously.

Permissions

Journal may use some of the device permissions to work properly. It is a fundamental requirement for the user to provide required permissions before the use of the application. Users may verify the use of the permissions before accepting them. We may ask the below permissions

- Storage - Read and write
- Gallery or Photos
- Microphone
- Notifications

Payments

This application doesn't contain any payment option and users will not be asked to make payment in any form.

Your acceptance of these terms

By using this Application, you signify your acceptance of this policy and terms of service. If you do not agree to this policy, please do not use our application. Your continued use of the application following the posting of changes to this policy will be deemed your acceptance of those changes.
