

Język angielski Poziom podstawowy

Listopad 2014

TRANSKRYPCJA NAGRAŃ

Zadanie 1.

Boy: Liz, have you seen that TV series I told you about? The first episode was on yesterday. It's really great, isn't it?

Girl: Well, I turned the TV on fifteen minutes too late! The part of the episode I've seen was OK, I guess. But the main actress is so irritating. Does she have to cry all the time?

Boy: Oh, come on! She's lost on a desert island. It's normal that she's sad. And this episode will be on again tomorrow, so you can watch it again from the start.

Girl: Hmm... I don't know, Jim. I think I'm not really keen on such TV series. The action was too fast and they introduced too many characters. At the end I didn't know who was who. But it's true that TV shows are becoming better than normal cinema films.

Boy: Not all of them. For example, an action film will always be better in the cinema. Even if you have the best surround system at home it's still worse than the cinema sound.

Girl: Yeah, but I don't really like going to the cinema. People talk when they shouldn't and they eat this smelly popcorn all the time. It really gets on my nerves.

Boy: Popcorn is the part of the fun! But it's true, some people are just too noisy. And the commercials before the film are so long!

Girl: It's actually a good thing. Everybody eats their popcorn during commercials and when the film starts nobody interrupts it, because they have nothing to eat anymore!

Zadanie 2.

Tekst 1.

Woman: Ladies and gentlemen, the captain has turned off the 'fasten seat belt' sign, and you may now move around the cabin. However, we always recommend to keep your seat belt fastened while you're seated. You may now turn on your electronic devices. In a few moments, the flight attendants will be passing around the cabin to offer you hot or cold drinks, as well as a light meal. Now, relax and enjoy the flight. Thank you.

adapted from www.airodissey.net

Tekst 2.

Man: ...and now something for food lovers. Our reporter, Martha Jones has recently visited a new restaurant called 'La Pasta'. Martha, what's your opinion about it?

Woman: Well, it's located in the heart of New York. And the location is the only good thing about this place. The staff is really rude which you will see right from the entrance and the place itself is really small and dirty.

Man: What about the food?

Woman: I ordered pasta, of course. And it was almost impossible to eat, everything was undercooked. Never go to this place if you don't want your mood to be ruined!

Tekst 3.

Girl: Hi! I'm calling your programme to give my opinion on the book called 'The Long Road'. This book truly falls under the category of 'don't judge a book by its cover', because when I saw its cover and read the description I didn't feel like reading it. But my friend had loved it so much I said that I would try it. Well, that night I was up until midnight reading! It's a brilliant book, perfect for anyone who likes futuristic books, fun books, interesting books or just basically any books in general! 'The Long Road' is one of my favorite books and I recommend it to everyone.

adapted from www.common sense media.org

Tekst 4.

Man: There's a house on fire. You have seconds. What do you do? Connor, 14, and his dad were jogging near their home in Bolton, England, when they saw a woman who was trapped with her two daughters in an upstairs bedroom. The woman dropped her children out of the window and Connor caught them. 'It was scary,' he said afterwards, 'but I'm a rugby player so I have good hands.' Connor's dad then caught the children's mother.

adapted from Team 09-10/2009

Tekst 5.

Woman: Do you have an old piece of furniture that you wish to throw away? Here's the perfect solution: join www.freecycle.org. Freecycle members advertise objects they don't need, then any member can come and collect them for free. The network has over 2.8 million members worldwide, and there's probably a group in your town. So join in, sit back and watch that old sofa go out of the door.

adapted from Speak Up No 267

Tekst 6.

Man: Hi, what seems to be the problem?

Woman: Well, I've noticed it when I left the petrol station. When I drive everything seems to be OK, but when I brake I hear a strange noise.

Man: Hmm... I don't think it's anything serious but we have to be sure. Can you give me the keys?

Woman: Here you are. Is it going to last long?

Man: Well, we have to take a look. Meanwhile you can sit and wait here. Help yourself to some tea or coffee. I'll let you know when we finish.

Zadanie 3.

Wypowiedź 1.

Man: RSPCA inspector John Herst had been called out to save the young cat that somebody threw out from a car in Ambria, Cambridgeshire. When the inspector began to follow her, she moved forward meowing all the time and led the inspector straight to where her kittens were. 'This little cat knew exactly what she wanted to do, and she made sure that I followed her and brought her kittens to safety. I didn't expect that.' the man said later on.

adapted from www.cambridge-news.co.uk

Wypowiedź 2.

Woman: Are you an amateur photographer? Do you have a cat? Do you want your cat to become a star? If yes, join our Cat Photo Contest. Your cat will have a chance to appear in our next year's calendar! Categories for the contest are 'Pretty Kitty' and 'Silly Cat'. Pick a category and send your photo to contest@catmagazine.com. The final date is June, 25th.

adapted from www.catchannel.com

Wypowiedź 3.

Man: If you want to have a cat, think about some important issues. Firstly, decide if you want a kitten or an adult cat. Kittens need a lot of attention. That's why I encourage you to take an adult cat, especially if you work all day. Secondly, think about the length of hair. Long-haired cats require daily brushing! Finally, remember that cats are dependent on their owners for all their needs – food, medical attention, exercise and entertainment. You'll need to spend a lot of time with your cat every day!

Wypowiedź 4.

Woman: Hi John. I won't be at home when you come back, so you and your sister have to make dinner today. I found a small kitten on our doorstep and I'm taking it to the vet. It's unusual – all white! I think we'll keep it. I hope that your father won't be angry. I know he preferred to have a dog, but he'll fall in love with this cat as soon as he sees it. Bye!