LIST SUBMISSION & RULES

Players should submit their joined army lists via email to jakegodson@googlemail.com following the restrictions mentioned in the new General's Handbook – 2025-26 and special event rules described further below.

Legends Warscrolls will be allowed.

Rules released until Sunday, two weeks prior, shall be valid for this event. Please check the appropriate documents released by Games Workshop to ensure that you are up to date with the latest rules revisions and erratas.

The final cut to submit your list will be Sunday the 22nd of June at 23:59.

Pairings for Round I will be arranged and revealed the day before the event between 12:00 and 18:00.

SPECIAL EVENT RULES

- Both players in a team bring 1000 points, choosing a different faction from their teammate. Each player also needs to select a unique battle tactics card (different from their teammate).

For example: Grunt brings 1000 points of Ironjawz, and his teammate, Vya'kshaz, brings another 1000 points of Skaven. They both have selected one battle tactic card, different from each other.

- The order of the game works as usual in a normal AoS game. However, both players in a team, and their joined army, function as one. They may discuss tactics together before moving, shooting or performing any action whatsoever in the game.

Example: Before round 1 begins, a priority roll is made and team A goes first. They will proceed the turn as normal, functioning as one single player or side. Then, Team B proceeds to play their turn. Once both sides are done, the round ends and the next one begins as usual.

- There will be no cross casting or prayers. Each player can only use the spells and abilities available to their own faction as per normal.
- You can't add units from Armies of Renown to your army.

A BIT OF LORE!

Participants are encouraged to submit a paragraph explaining why or how their two armies have decided to join forces.

Please submit your little piece of lore to our email kingdomwargamesuk@gmail.com with the subject “Staff & Blade lore” and the name of each player (e.g., “Staff & Blade lore – Fred and Steve”).

The deadline for this will be the same as for list submission. The day after, all lore pieces will be revealed and shared, and players may vote which one is their favourite.

Votes will be open until the last round of the event.

One vote per player.

PAINTING REQUIREMENTS, CONVERSIONS, ETC.

Although it will be appreciated by your opponents if you get your army to a battle-ready standard, no painting will be required.

Conversions will be allowed. As a rule of thumb, converted models should keep roughly the same proportions and overall shape as the original, most recent model. It should also be easy to recognise.

“WHAT ABOUT PROXIES, MY LORD?”

Fear not warrior, while we will attempt to stay flexible, proxies might need to be approved first. Kindly send a message spell to jakegodson@googlemail.com to seek for approval and keep your honour intact.

MISSIONS

... this information has not been easy to gather, sire, but here are the latest findings by our spies regarding the enemy movements:

◆ Round I – Surge of Slaughter

◆ Round II – Grasp of Thorns

◆ Round III – Roiling Roots

Regarding food and drinks:

Food is allowed in the venue. There are several options nearby to grab food, you can ask us for any special deals with local restaurants.

Kingdom Wargames offers a wide selection of drinks at popular prices. We kindly ask our customers to purchase the drinks we have at our venue.

FINAL NOTE

Our goal in Kingdom Wargames is to bring you great events, where everyone has the best experience, and our players play a big part in it.

We are always very keen on hearing the thoughts and opinions from our community.

Please send any suggestions and feedback to our email (kingdomwargamesuk@gmail.co.uk) with a subject such as “[event name] Feedback”.

We also kindly ask you that, regardless of the result of your games, or whether the Dice Gods decide to bless you this day or not, please always try to have fun.

Be fair and friendly to your opponents.

Remember, this is a game of plastic toy soldiers after all!
