EMERGENCY PLAN

Every family should have an emergency plan. Although we hope you never need to use it, it is a good practice to have one available to reduce the stress of unexpected situations. This packet will help you create a family plan regardless of immigration status.

This toolkit includes:

- 1. Learn About Your Immigration Options: A guide to help you assess your legal situation and potential pathways to status.
- 2. Family Emergency Plan & To-Do List A checklist of immediate actions families should complete to prepare for unexpected situations, including organizing immigration documents and financial planning.
- 3. Child Care Plan Instructions and templates to ensure a trusted adult can care for your children if you cannot, allowing you to document their medical needs, school details, and authorized pick-up persons.
- 4. Know Your Rights Information Practical guidance on your constitutional rights if approached by immigration agents or police, including the right to remain silent and the right to refuse entry without a judicial warrant.
- 5. What to Do If Detained & How to Locate a Loved One Step-by-step instructions on what to do during detention processing, how to make a phone call, and tools for family members to locate a detained relative online or by phone.
- 6. Important Contact Information & Community Resources Forms to record essential family, medical, and legal contacts, along with a list of trusted nonprofit organizations and legal aid services.
- 7. Florida Limited Power of Attorney (Finance & Property) A legal document that allows you to name a trusted person as your agent to manage your financial and property matters (such as paying rent or accessing bank accounts) if you are unable to do so.
- 8. Temporary Power of Attorney for the Care of Children A legal document that allows you to temporarily authorize a designated caregiver to make medical, educational, and general welfare decisions for your children if you are separated.

IMPORTANT NOTE We strongly encourage every family at risk of separation to review this toolkit carefully and complete the recommended steps as soon as possible. This toolkit is meant to help you prepare, but it does not replace legal advice. We still recommend speaking with an immigration attorney and/or family planning attorney about your specific situation.

FAMILY PLANNING

TO-DO LIST

- ☐ Find an attorney or accredited representative who will help you in the event of an emergency. Make sure to speak with the attorney or accredited representative. Do not just write down the phone number without making sure the person will be able to help you.
- ☐ Get screened by an attorney or accredited representative to determine if you are eligible for another immigration status.
- ☐ Register with your local consulate.
- ☐ Make a family plan about what to do in the event a family member is arrested, detained or goes missing.
 - Decide who will be called and in what order.
 - In some states, the law requires you to give your name to the police. Find out whether you are required to provide your name in your state. Make a plan about what you will do if you are asked your name. Consider that not giving your name could cause you to be arrested or detained. Not giving your name could make it difficult or impossible for your family to locate you in detention or police custody. Speak to an attorney about what to do in your unique situation.
- ☐ Make copies of all immigration and other important papers for all members of the family. Keep them in a safe place. Make sure a trusted friend, family member that does not live with you or member of the community knows where you keep these papers or make a set of copies for them to keep.

Important papers:

- Work authorization
 - Copies of identification
 - Passports
 - Copies of any other immigration papers, including receipt notices for any pending cases and approval notices for family petitions
 - Birth certificates (with English translations)
 - Marriage certificates (with English translations)
 - Social Security cards
 - Documents related to criminal arrests or cases
 - Name and contact information for attorneys who have represented you in the past
 - Other important information such as a list of medications family members take
- ☐ Decide who will take care of your children in an emergency. Make sure that person has important information about your children, such as medications they need. Speak to an attorney to see if you should sign any legal documents (such as a power of attorney) to make sure your children are cared for in the event of an emergency. Make sure children born in the United States have passports.

- ☐ Execute a Power of Attorney. A power of attorney will allow someone you trust to take care of decisions involving your finances, children and other needs if you are detained or deported. Save money for rent, food, medications and other needs if you are detained. Talk to your attorney or employer about signing a document allowing a family member to pick up your paycheck if you are detained. Ask a relative, friend or member of the community to post bond for you if you are detained. This person must be a U.S. citizen or Lawful Permanent Resident (green card holder). In most cases, once your immigration case is over, the bond money will be returned.
- ☐ Review this guide and your emergency plan with your entire family. MAKE SURE EVERYONE IN YOUR FAMILY KNOWS THEIR RIGHTS. You may want to practice exactly what you will say and do in the event of contact with an officer.

Information you must memorize

- The phone number of your attorney (also carry a copy of your attorney's phone number with you at all times)
- The phone number of your consulate (also carry a copy of your consulate's phone number with you at all times)
- The phone numbers of family members
- Your Alien Registration Number/A# (the number on your immigration documents), if applicable
- Your date of entry into the United States
- Your immigration status when you entered the United States and current status,
- Your criminal history—including any arrests, charges, the outcome (guilty or innocent), and dates

CHILD CARE PLAN

To Do List

Talk to Your Children About Your Plan

Reassure your children that they will be cared for if, for any reason, you cannot care for them, even if it is only for a short time. Let them know who will care for them until you can take care of them again.

Decide Who Will Care for Your Children if You Cannot

Speak with the people you would like to care for your children and make sure they know they are on your emergency contact list. Memorize their phone numbers and have your children learn them as well. Make sure your children know who can and who cannot pick them up from school, and who will take care of them. The school will only release your children to the people you list on the emergency letter. Keep the school, after-school program, daycare, or other programs up to date with this information. Make sure the authorized people know where your children are and which school they attend.

Write Down Instructions if Your Children Have a Medical Condition or Take Medication

Write down any medical conditions or allergies your children have, any medications they are taking, and the information of their doctor and health insurance. Keep a copy in your important documents file. Provide a copy to your child's school and to the person responsible for their care. Make sure your children know where to find this information if you are not available.

Have the Caregiver Sign an Authorized Sworn Affidavit

The caregiver's authorized sworn affidavit should be delivered to your child's school or health care provider so that someone other than a parent can enroll your child in public school and make school, medical, and other important decisions on your child's behalf if you cannot. This affidavit does not affect your parental rights—you keep custody and control of your children.

Sign a Power of Attorney for the Person You Chose to Care for Your Children

You should appoint a trusted person with legal authority to make financial, legal, or child-care decisions in your absence. You may authorize the person caring for your children to make decisions for them; manage your finances; handle business decisions; use your money to pay rent or a mortgage; or pay for legal or other expenses. A power of attorney for your children is temporary and does not require you to give up your parental rights or guardianship.

Make Sure All Your Children Have a Passport

If your children were born in the United States, visit travel.state.gov for information on how to obtain a U.S. passport. If your children were born in your country of origin, contact your embassy or consulate for more information on how to obtain a passport.

LEARN ABOUT YOUR IMMIGRATION OPTIONS

The most effective way to protect yourself and your family from deportation is by obtaining legal status if you are eligible. Getting a proper legal consultation from a trusted expert is crucial in family preparedness planning since they can better determine if you are currently eligible for any immigration benefit. While Mobility Immigration provides attorney immigration services, not everyone can afford an attorney. It is important to know that there are nonprofit organizations that offer immigration services to individuals for no cost or low cost.

A list of nonprofit immigration services can be found online at the Immigration Advocates Network website at: ilrc.me/findhelp.

If you need assistance in finding trustworthy immigration services, you should contact your consulate. Most consulates maintain a list of trustworthy lawyers and legal services for immigration and all areas of the law.

Avoid Immigration Scams

There are only two types of people that can give legal advice related to immigration cases: (1) licensed attorneys, or (2) Department of Justice accredited representatives.

Do NOT hire anyone who:

- Refuses to give you a written contract
- Charges you for blank immigration forms
- Promises you a good result because of their special contacts at Immigration (USCIS)
- Pretends to be a licensed attorney
- Asks you to lie on a form or sign a blank document
- Charges you to get on a "waiting list" or get "in line." There is no list. There is no line.

If you suspect fraud, report it to your consulate or the police. Then contact the Federal Trade Commission to file a complaint in English or Spanish at 877-FTC-HELP (877-382-4357).

An immigration attorney can only determine your eligibility to obtain legal status after a consultation. Each case is unique and eligibility is dependent on an individual's personal history and specific facts of their case. For individuals that do not have any legal status, it is important to know that there may be immigration options for:

- Victims of certain crimes AND cooperate with law enforcement (U Visa)
- Victims of domestic violence (VAWA)
- Victims of human trafficking (T Visa)
- Spouses, parents, and children of members of the U.S. armed forces or veterans (Military Parole-in-Place)

KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

All people, documented or undocumented, have rights in the United States. Talk to everyone in your family (including your children) and household so they know what to do if they have an encounter with police or immigration agents (ICE) or if agents come to your home.

You Have Rights

- You have the right to refuse consent for immigration or for the police to search yourself, your car, or your home.
- You have the right to remain silent. If you want to exercise that right, you should say it out loud.
- If you are not a U.S. citizen, you have the right to call the consulate of your home country. Immigration and police must let your consulate visit or speak with you.
- You have the right to speak to an attorney before answering any questions. You may say, “I will remain silent until I speak to an attorney.”
- You do not have to sign anything that you do not understand.
- You have the right to a copy of all your immigration papers.

If ICE Agents Are at the Door

- Do not open the door to immigration agents (ICE) or any police officer who does not have a signed search warrant. You are not required to open the door unless an ICE agent shows you a warrant signed by a judge that specifically lists your correct name and address. If agents knock, ask them to slide the warrant under the door or show it through a window. Make sure it is signed by a judge and has the correct address. If they do not have a judge-signed warrant, you do not have to open the door. Opening the door can cause you to lose certain rights.
- Keep a red “Know Your Rights” card with you and near your door at all times. You can slide it under the door to immigration agents; it explains your rights and that you are not required to open the door.

Do Not Speak With ICE Agents

You are not required to speak to an ICE agent or answer questions. You have the right to remain silent. You may refuse to speak. Do not answer any questions—especially about your place of birth, immigration status, or how you entered the United States. Do not provide personal information about yourself or your family. Say that you wish to remain silent until you can speak with a lawyer. Teach your children and other family members to say “No” to ICE.

You have the right to refuse to sign any document without first speaking to a lawyer. Do not sign anything you do not understand or agree with. Signing may eliminate your right to speak with a lawyer or your right to a hearing before an Immigration Judge, which could result in immediate deportation without a hearing. Ask to speak with a lawyer and to appear before an Immigration Judge. You have the right to talk to a lawyer and to make a phone call. Always carry the phone number of an immigration lawyer.

DOCUMENTS YOU SHOULD AND SHOULD NOT CARRY

Always carry with you any valid immigration document you have.

- For example, if you have a valid work permit or green card, be sure to have it with you in case you need to show it for identification purposes.
- If you have a pending immigration case, including an asylum claim, an immigration court case, or a pending appeal, carry proof of that pending case with you.
- Do not carry papers from another country with you, such as a foreign passport. Such papers could be used against you in the deportation process.
- At all times, carry a red “KNOW YOUR RIGHTS” CARD to assert your right to remain silent if you are stopped or questioned by ICE or by police officers.

If you have lived in the U.S. for longer than two years, carry proof with you and show it to an immigration officer if you are arrested.

- If you are undocumented, carry evidence of having been in the U.S. for longer than two years with you, and show it to an immigration officer if you are arrested. This may not prevent deportation, but it can prevent it from happening without a chance to see a judge.
- Evidence can include a signed lease, church or school records with your address, or postmark mail that you have received at your home address. You may want to carry copies of these documents instead of the originals, so you do not risk losing them.
- Do not carry any document from your country of origin if you can avoid it. If you have no other valid U.S.-issued identification, you may need to carry your passport from your country of origin.

DO NOT CARRY ANY FAKE IDENTIFICATION OR FAKE IMMIGRATION DOCUMENTS.

Very important to MEMORIZE the phone number of an immigration attorney, advocate, your consulate or nonprofit immigration organization you will call in an emergency.

WHAT TO DO IF DETAINED & HOW TO LOCATE A LOVED ONE IN DETENTION

What To Do If You Are Detained:

1. Stay calm and follow instructions, but do not sign legal documents without having them reviewed by your attorney.
2. If you are lawfully present in the United States or are a citizen, notify the agents immediately.
3. Exercise your right to remain silent. You must however provide your name when asked.
4. You have the right to refuse to sign any form until it is reviewed by your immigration attorney.
5. Notify the officer immigration agent if you are the primary caregiver to a child or have a medical condition that requires medication or medical care, or are pregnant.
6. During detention processing and intake, write down the name and phone number of your case officer and your Alien Registration Number (A-Number). If you do not already have an A-number, you will be assigned one. Share this information with your Emergency Contact. It will assist them in locating you should you be moved to a different detention facility.
7. Do not lie or give false information as this could be a criminal act and/or worsen your situation.
8. Officials are required to allow you to call a family member or attorney. If they do not offer this, it is your right to ask for your call. Please remember calls between you and your attorney are privileged, however any calls to family members or friends are not and information from those conversations can be used against you.
9. Contact your Emergency Contact and provide them the name and phone number for your case officer and you're A-Number.
10. 10. If you are afraid to return to your home country, say so loudly and clearly to every agent you see. If you do not say you are scared, they may deport you without giving you a chance to see a judge or ask for asylum.

WHAT TO DO IF A FAMILY MEMBER IS DETAINED

1. Notify the detainee's immigration attorney and consulate immediately.
2. Implement your family plan.
3. If the detainee has been moved, there are two main ways to locate them:
 - a. Online option: Go to <https://locator.ice.gov/odls/#/search>
 - b. Phone option (limited hours): Call (888)351-4024
4. To find immigration court information
 - a. Online Option: Go to <https://acis.eoir.justice.gov/en>
 - b. Phone Option: or call 1-800-898-7180.
5. You can check for outstanding removal orders or prior deportations by an immigration judge at: <https://acis.eoir.justice.gov/en>

Protect Yourself From Fraud

Only a licensed attorney or an accredited representative is authorized and qualified to handle your immigration case. Do not hire anyone who:

- Refuses to provide you with a written contract;
- Charges you for blank immigration forms;
- Promises a good result because of special contacts inside immigration;
- Pretends to be a qualified attorney or an authorized immigration consultant;
- Asks you to lie on a form or to sign a blank form; or
- Charges you to put you on a “waiting list” or to “place your application in line.”
There is no waiting list or line for applications.

If you suspect fraud, report it to your consulate or the police, or contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to file a complaint in English or Spanish at 877-FTC-HELP (877-382-4357). For more information and resources visit: stopnotariofraud.org.

Find a Legal Service Provider

The National Immigration Legal Services Directory of the Immigration Advocates Network lists nonprofit organizations that provide free or low-cost immigration legal services. Use it to find a provider near you for a consultation: immigrationadvocates.org/nonprofit/legaldirectory/.

Important Note:

Look for a local nonprofit organization that can help you find out whether there is an immigration benefit that may help you obtain lawful permanent residence, a work permit, a visa, or protection from deportation. Keep a list of these local organizations in case you have any problems with Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). These organizations may have attorneys who can help you.
