"Education is not preparation for life; education is life itself."

- John Dewey

Education is a means by which we train children to deal with the problems of life. To bring out the right balance in life, we also have to lay stress on the spiritual aspect of education. Spirituality deals with developing the higher values of life and becoming a better person. Education should serve not only to develop one's intelligence and skills but also help broaden one's outlook and make one useful to society and the world at large. It must result in purifying one's perception. Even technology must be dedicated to the promotion of high ideals and human values.

Our educational programmes are designed to ignite curiosity, foster creativity and promote a lifelong love for learning. At MPS, Tilak Nagar, we emphasize the importance of a holistic approach to education. Beyond academic skills, we focus on building character, empathy and resilience in our students.
