FROM OUR DESK

Building bridges between NGOs and community projects

We believe that lasting change happens when organisations stop working in silos and start working together. Across our communities, there are NGOs, grassroots projects, and local champions all striving toward the same goals — yet so much potential is lost when these efforts go unconnected.

This edition, we are shining a light on collaboration: what makes it work, what gets in the way, and how the Nyatee Foundation is helping to bridge the gap. We want to hear from you too — your voice shapes the work we do.
