Carson Davenport received a BS in Communications from the University of Texas at Austin.

While in Austin, Carson was selected to work as a messenger in the Texas Senate during the 2017 legislative session, an experience she values as a unique opportunity to witness politics and lawmaking first-hand.

Carson provides valuable support to the lawyers and staff at Stanton LLP, eagerly assisting in a variety of administrative tasks.

In her free time, Carson channels her creative skills into calligraphy and painting. Carson is a voracious reader of literature and non-fiction and enjoys bike riding. Inspired by her grandparents, Carson hopes to one day visit every National Park in the United States.
