Dear Colleagues,

after the significant celebratory edition of 2025, our Annual Congress of Digestive System Surgery continues its path with renewed enthusiasm and with the same spirit that, since 1985, has made it a point of reference for the national and international surgical community.

Over the course of more than forty years, this appointment has grown edition after edition, establishing itself not only as a moment of high-level scientific updating, but also as a privileged place for discussion, sharing and professional growth. A congress built by surgeons for surgeons, capable of combining scientific rigor, experience in the field and direct dialogue.

A consolidated format, an ever-new look

Live surgery remains the beating heart of our Congress: an extraordinarily effective training tool, which allows advanced surgical techniques to be observed, discussed and deepened directly from the operating rooms of the main centers of excellence. Alongside the live broadcasts, scientific sessions, round tables and moments of discussion with Italian and international experts will continue to offer content of great value and topicality.

The 2026 Congress

The 37th edition of the Congress on Digestive System Surgery will be held on 12 and 13 November 2026, in the prestigious venue of the Auditorium del Massimo in Rome. Two intense days, dedicated to updating, discussing and sharing the most recent innovations in the surgical field, in the name of a format that over the years has shown all its strength and topicality.

I would like to thank in advance all those who, with their participation, scientific contribution and enthusiasm, make possible the continuity and success of this Congress. It is thanks to a lively and participatory community, made up of surgeons, nurses and health professionals, that this event continues to grow and renew itself over time.

With the hope of meeting you in Rome in November 2026, I greet you with deep cordiality.

I'm waiting for you!

Giorgio Palazzini
