

CSforALL has partnered with New York Road Runners this year as an Official Charity Partner of the 2023 TCS New York City Marathon on Sunday, November 5th!

Interested in running to support CSforALL?

We have a number of charity spots available for anyone from novice to elite on their running journey.

Join our CSforALL team of runners who support computer science education pathways in K-12 education and you'll get support every step of the way!

Perks of running with CSforALL:

- Guaranteed entry to the 2023 TCS New York City Marathon
- CSforALL covers the entry fee valued at $450/runner (runners cover registration fee of ~$295)
- Signature CSforALL race day shirt
- Fundraising resources and support, including personal fundraising page to help you meet your fundraising goal
- Invitation as special guest to the annual Summit in October

Fundraising Commitment:

As a runner you commit to a $2,500 fundraising goal due in full by November 5, 2023. 100% of all funds raised go directly to CSforALL!

Our runners will be selected on Friday, March 31st via a blind lottery.

For more information and to apply to enter the lottery, please email our Director of Development, Megan Hildebrand at development@csforall.org for an application. Completed applications must be submitted no later than Thursday, March 30, 2023 at 5pm EST.

Let's make CS education accessible and equitable, together.
