TO GOD WHAT BELONGS TO GOD

By Sr. Sharon McMillan, SNDdeN

The holy season of Advent rapidly approaches as this Church Year draws to a close in only 5 more weeks. We hear important sections of the conclusion to St. Matthew's Gospel, climaxing with the Feast of Christ, King of Universe on November 22nd. During this week, the Church offers for our reflection several saints, but I will raise up 2 significant feasts. Monday is the Memorial of the North American Martyrs, Saints John de Brébeuf, Isaac Jogues and Companions (+1642 – 1649). They were French Jesuit missionaries to the Hurons and Iroquois. They are honored here in the United States and are known as secondary patrons of Canada. Thursday is day set aside to remember St. Pope John Paul II (+2005). His exceptional apostolic zeal, particularly for families, young people, and the sick, led him to make numerous pastoral visits throughout the world, including the Diocese of Monterey in 1987.

The Gospel Matthew 22:15 - 21

In this particular conflict, we see Jesus confronted by a group of people who want to trip him up and undercut his mission, since they suspect that his parables are actually challenges to their power. The point of their question about taxes is to force Jesus to side with either the zealots, who promoted rebellion against Rome, or with those who collaborated with the Roman rulers, which some of the faithful judged to be an affront to God and the Chosen People. Jesus' ability to discredit their either-or proposition is the most obvious triumph of this incident. But a deeper question lies underneath this surface. Jesus' response about the coin implied that it belonged to the one whose image it bore. When he spoke of God, the obvious question would be "where is God's image?" Clearly, for all those who know the creation accounts, God's image is the human person, male and female. Jesus cleverly reminds his listeners that as creatures, they (and we) owe everything to the God in whose image they were created.

First Reading Isaiah 45:1, 4 - 6

The passage we hear today explains that God will use Cyrus, King of Persia, to bring the Jewish people exiled in Babylonia back home to Jerusalem. Isaiah discerns God acting through human agents in history, even using foreigners for the redemption of the people. It is easy to see how biblical scholars chose this reading as being fulfilled in today's Gospel. God reminds us, through the words of the Prophet Isaiah: "I am the Lord and there is no other. There is no God besides me." The State has its proper area of authority but always, we are to "render to God what belongs to God."

Second Reading 1 Thessalonians 1:1 - 5b

In the Sundays of Ordinary Time, the Second Reading at Mass is always independent of both the Gospel and the First Reading: there is no common theme. This letter to the Thessalonians is the earliest written document in the New Testament. Paul wrote it during his stay at Corinth in 50 AD. Paul had founded the church at Thessalonica not very long before. He had had to leave it hurriedly, and, in his anxiety over his recent converts, he sent Timothy to see how things were going. The report Timothy brought back was largely favorable – hence the warm tone of the opening thanksgiving, which forms the main part of today's reading. Notice how Paul addresses the community "in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ." This seemingly simple statement is rich in meaning: it proclaims Jesus as both the Son of the Father and the Christ, the long-awaited Messiah. And the greeting "grace to you and peace" is one that is often used today at the beginning of Mass.

HONORING OUR LOVED ONES
ALL SOULS DAY

On Monday November 2nd, we will observe the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (All Souls Day), a sacred time to remember and pray for our deceased loved ones. Traditionally, San Carlos Cathedral creates an "Altar of the Dead" adorned with veladoras (votive candles) bearing images of those who have gone before us.

Our SCC Tradition

Every year, we setup and display our Altar of the Dead near our parish office, as a way to represent the altars in our homes, where we remember and honor our loved ones and pray for their eternal rest. The Altar of the Dead will remain on display until Sun., Nov. 22nd, Solemnity of Christ the King.

Include Their Picture

We invite you to send us the pictures of your deceased loved ones so that they may be placed on a veladora and included on our "Altar of the Dead". Contact Esperanza Cabrera at ecabrera@sancarloscathedral.org. More information will be available next week on our parish website: www.sancarloscathedral.org

Deadline to submit pictures: FRIDAY, OCT. 23rd.
