WE ARE INVITED TO A FEAST OF GRACE

By Sr. Sharon McMillan, SNDdeN

These next few weeks draw the Church Year 2025/26 to a close. We are hearing the closing chapters of Matthew's Gospel as we make our way to the Feast of Christ the King on the 34th Week in Ordinary Time which is also called the Feast of Christ, King of the Universe. The holy season of Advent then begins on November 29th and introduces the new Church Year, anchored in the Gospel of St. Mark. This week includes Indigenous Peoples' Day, an official city and state holiday in many areas of the United States on Monday. It celebrates and honors indigenous American peoples and commemorates their histories and cultures. On Thursday, we celebrate St. Teresa of Avila (+1582), a Spanish mystic who, with St. John of the Cross, founded the reformed (Discalced) Carmelite nuns and friars. She is the first woman declared "Doctor of the Church." Friday honors St. Margaret Mary Alacoque (+1690) a French mystic who promoted devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Pray for us, St. Teresa and St. Margaret Mary!

The Gospel Matthew 22:1 - 14

As we will see in the First Reading, on God's holy mountain, all people enjoy God's banquet of rich food and fine, aged wine. All mourning and death will cease, and every tear is wiped away; shame is dispelled and hunger is forgotten. And the best news of all: God invites everyone into this lavish banquet. In today's Gospel, the wedding banquet is prepared by the king for his son, a clear signal that this is God's banquet prepared for Jesus his Son and those who believe in him. But note that Jesus tells this parable not to his followers but to the chief priests and elders of the people; Jesus shows them examples of their own distorted views and behavior. After those VIPs invited to the banquet not only refuse to come but beat and kill those who invite them, the king now invites all the local street people and homeless into his feast. His invitation includes everyone. But part of being a wedding guest involves wearing the appropriate dress. In God's kingdom banquet, the wedding garments are symbols of one's repentance and a lifetime of good deeds. Without evidence of any transformation of heart and mind and behavior, the guest proves unworthy of participating in the banquet. As Jesus tells us, "many are invited, but few are chosen"; our "yes" to the invitation includes commitment to this King and his Son.

First Reading Isaiah 25:6 - 10a

According to some scholars, this is a hymn for a feast celebrating the coronation of God as King. How unique is our God's way of celebrating! The God of Israel himself serves a feast, not just for the chosen people, but for all peoples. Instead of flaunting the power of a warrior, our God appears to be more of a chef, serving fine wine and juicy, rich food. Rather than membership in a particular ethnic group or faith tradition, the only requirement for participating in this banquet is the desire to receive God's grace and participate with joy.

Second Reading Philippians 4:12 - 14, 19 - 20

In the Sundays of Ordinary Time, the Second Reading at Mass is always independent of both the Gospel and the First Reading. There is no common theme or direction that fits with those other two readings. Today's passage is the end of Paul's Letter to the Philippians. He claims that he can adapt to any physical circumstances. This ability comes not from his own virtue but it is due to "him who strengthens me." Paul ends by assuring his community that God will care for their every need. This does not mean that they will never be hungry, but rather that they will share in Christ's glorious riches, the divine presence that will transform them and the world.

Faith Formation News! October 2026

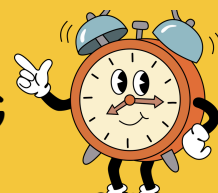

"The family finds in the plan of God the Creator and Redeemer, not only its identity, what it is, but also its mission, what it can and should do. The role that God calls the family to perform in history derives from what the family is; its role represents the dynamic and existential development of what it is. Each family finds within itself a summons that cannot be ignored, and that specifies both its dignity and its responsibility: family, become what you are. ~Familiaris Consortio No. 17

HONORING OUR LOVED ONES ALL SOULS DAY

On Monday November 2nd, we will observe the Commemoration of All the Faithful Departed (All Souls Day), a sacred time to remember and pray for our deceased loved ones. Traditionally, San Carlos Cathedral creates an "Altar of the Dead" adorned with veladoras (votive candles) bearing images of those who have gone before us.

OurSCC Tradition

Every year, we setup and display our Altar of the Dead near our parish office, as a way to represent the altars in our homes, where we remember and honor our loved ones and pray for their eternal rest. The Altar of the Dead will remain on display until Sun., Nov. 22nd, Solemnity of Christ the King.

Include Their Picture

We invite you to send us the pictures of your deceased loved ones so that they may be placed on a veladora and included on our "Altar of the Dead". Contact Esperanza Cabrera at ecabrera@sancarloscathedral.org More information will be available next week on our parish website: www.sancarloscathedral.org

Deadline to submit pictures: FRIDAY, OCT. 23rd.
