

SYNOD 2020 TALKS

Monday 17 February 2020

The Church in an Individualistic Society: Today's Economic Inequality - Where is the Church?

Rt Rev Dr Philip Egan

- What currents are evident in contemporary culture?
- What does the Gospel of Christ say?
- What pastoral approaches might the Catholic community take.

Philip Egan is Bishop of Portsmouth. He has served as hospital chaplain, parish priest, and Dean of Studies and Professor of Fundamental Theology at Oscott College. Bishop Philip is frequently asked to speak at theological symposia and at catechetical gatherings and he has regularly contributed to religious journals and magazines.

LACE Conference Centre (Croxteth Drive L17 1AA)

Lecture begins at 7:30pm and concludes at 8:45pm.

Tea & Coffee served from 7pm.

Optional Night Prayer follows at 9pm.

Full details at synod2020.co.uk/lectures

SYNOD 2020 TALKS

Monday 17 February 2020

The Church in an Individualistic Society: Today's Economic Inequality - Where is the Church?

Rt Rev Dr Philip Egan

- What currents are evident in contemporary culture?
- What does the Gospel of Christ say?
- What pastoral approaches might the Catholic community take.

Philip Egan is Bishop of Portsmouth. He has served as hospital chaplain, parish priest, and Dean of Studies and Professor of Fundamental Theology at Oscott College. Bishop Philip is frequently asked to speak at theological symposia and at catechetical gatherings and he has regularly contributed to religious journals and magazines.

LACE Conference Centre (Croxteth Drive L17 1AA)

Lecture begins at 7:30pm and concludes at 8:45pm.

Tea & Coffee served from 7pm.

Optional Night Prayer follows at 9pm.

Full details at synod2020.co.uk/lectures

SYNOD 2020 TALKS

Monday 17 February 2020

The Church in an Individualistic Society: Today's Economic Inequality - Where is the Church?

Rt Rev Dr Philip Egan

- What currents are evident in contemporary culture?
- What does the Gospel of Christ say?
- What pastoral approaches might the Catholic community take.

Philip Egan is Bishop of Portsmouth. He has served as hospital chaplain, parish priest, and Dean of Studies and Professor of Fundamental Theology at Oscott College. Bishop Philip is frequently asked to speak at theological symposia and at catechetical gatherings and he has regularly contributed to religious journals and magazines.

LACE Conference Centre (Croxteth Drive L17 1AA)

Lecture begins at 7:30pm and concludes at 8:45pm.

Tea & Coffee served from 7pm.

Optional Night Prayer follows at 9pm.

Full details at synod2020.co.uk/lectures

SYNOD 2020 TALKS

Monday 17 February 2020

The Church in an Individualistic Society: Today's Economic Inequality - Where is the Church?

Rt Rev Dr Philip Egan

- What currents are evident in contemporary culture?
- What does the Gospel of Christ say?
- What pastoral approaches might the Catholic community take.

Philip Egan is Bishop of Portsmouth. He has served as hospital chaplain, parish priest, and Dean of Studies and Professor of Fundamental Theology at Oscott College. Bishop Philip is frequently asked to speak at theological symposia and at catechetical gatherings and he has regularly contributed to religious journals and magazines.

LACE Conference Centre (Croxteth Drive L17 1AA)

Lecture begins at 7:30pm and concludes at 8:45pm.

Tea & Coffee served from 7pm.

Optional Night Prayer follows at 9pm.

Full details at synod2020.co.uk/lectures