This design created by Art Lab aims to reflect the principles of decentralization and meritocracy and the first year anniversary of Free Ton network.

The main element of the design is the F letter, which is shaped as a crystal as in computers and on the free ton network. The letter is surrounded by honeycomb, representing decentralization and hard working bees, who's merits are rewarded by honey. The yellow and orange rays coming out of the central circle and going towards it reinforce the idea of decentralization.
