Creator of very popular stickers which attract a new people.

I propose to involve outside professionals in the judging process, or rather to take publicly available instructions and developments on YouTube for the evaluation system, and also try to follow the rules for evaluating public design competitions. Consider these points as additional points.

In addition, for the initials or active members of subgovernance, once in a certain amount of time to release a guide or a condensed master class on trends in the field of design, because not only designers are recruited to the jury.
