Vivekananda Institute of Professional Studies- Technical Campus

Job Title: Production Team-Photographer and Videographers
Location: VIPS-TC Campus
Position Type: Volunteer
Duration: 12 Months

Position Overview:

VIPS-TC invites you to be a part of our dynamic Production Team under the direction of Vivekananda School of Journalism and Mass Communication. We are on the lookout for enthusiastic and dedicated volunteers who have a passion for still-photography and videography. As a volunteer of our campus production team, you will have the exciting opportunity to document and capture the various events that unfold on our vibrant campus and build your portfolio.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Enrollment as a student at the School of Journalism and Mass Communication, VIPS-TC
- Basic knowledge of photography and videography equipment
- Strong passion for visual storytelling

Key Responsibilities:

Event Coverage: Capture high-quality photographs and videos during college events, such as seminars, workshops, cultural programs, and sports events.

Creative Storytelling: Use your visual skills to tell compelling stories through photography and videography, highlighting the essence and moments of each event.

Equipment Management: Ensure the proper handling and maintenance of photography and videography equipment provided by the Institution.

Post-Production: Edit and enhance photos and videos to meet the organization's branding and communication requirements.

Remuneration:

This is a volunteer opportunity, and no monetary compensation will be provided. However, volunteers will gain valuable hands-on experience, improve their photography and videography skills, and can build a portfolio of their work.

We encourage applications from candidates of all backgrounds and experiences. VIPS-TC is dedicated to creating a diverse, inclusive, and equitable campus environment. Application does not ensure internship or job placement, and permanent employment is not guaranteed.
