3. OUTCOMES: The event successfully provided a platform for the participants to express themselves artistically, with the best photographs and their articulating thought process and persuading the audience of the relevance of their photographs to the prompt, thereby boosting confidence and motivation.

4. LESSON LEARNED: The event taught the importance of being observant and paying attention to details that might otherwise be overlooked, a skill that is valuable in both academic research and everyday life.

5. FUTURE PLANS: As Palimpsest'25 is the annual literature fest of Vivekananda School of English Studies (VSES) so in future we can have extended narrative. It will allow students/participants to create a short story or a poem that accompanies their photograph, adding depth to the visual narrative. We can also organize an exhibition of the best photographs and narratives, and introduce awards for categories like 'best interpretation', 'most creative' and 'audience favorite'. Also, we can host workshops on photography and storytelling before the event to prepare participants and invite guest speakers to talk about the art of visual storytelling.
