Collaborative Conference on "Global Convergence on Intellectual Property 2026 (CGCIP'26)"
Organized by: Centre for Intellectual Property Rights

The Centre for Intellectual Property Rights (CIPR), Vivekananda School of Law and Legal Studies (VSLLS), VIPS-TC, successfully organised the Collaborative Conference on Global Convergence on Intellectual Property 2026 (CGCIP'26) on 24th–25th April 2026 with the University of New Hampshire Franklin Pierce School of Law, USA, under the Memorandum of Understanding signed with the University to strengthen this academic collaboration.

The inaugural ceremony was graced by Hon'ble Justice Mr. C. Hari Shankar, Judge, High Court of Delhi, as Chief Guest, while the keynote address was delivered by Prof. Zvi S. Rosen, Associate Professor and Faculty Director, Franklin Pierce Center for Intellectual Property, University of New Hampshire, who provided valuable insights on the historical evolution of authorship in the age of artificial intelligence. The plenary session featured eminent experts including Mr. Pravin Anand, Managing Partner, Anand and Anand, Dr. Ng Raye, Associate Professor of International Management, University of Cumbria and Prof. John M. Garon, Associate Dean for Technology and Innovation, Nova Southeastern University who deliberated on global convergence in intellectual property law, the balance between creators and consumers, and the growing impact of AI on innovation and the creative economy. Spread across 13 technical sessions, the conference witnessed participation from over 100 delegates and more than 70 research paper presenters from India and abroad, covering themes such as trade, public health, sustainability, entrepreneurship, patent law, geographical indications, biopiracy, and AI-generated content. The valedictory ceremony was graced by Prof. (Dr.) Amar Pal Singh, Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow, whose address highlighted the evolving dimensions of intellectual property law in a changing global landscape. Overall, CGCIP’26 emerged as a vibrant platform for academic dialogue, international collaboration, and meaningful exchange on contemporary intellectual property challenges.
