As part of Vigilance Awareness Week (2018) to generate awareness about honesty and fair living, and involve students with the campaign against corruption, Vivekananda School of English Studies (VSES) organized a slogan writing competition on the topic ‘Eradication of Corruption’ on 30 October, 2018. VSES reached out to the youth of their department to raise awareness on the need to combat the menace of corruption.

The participants had to write and present the slogan on corruption as an evil of society by using slogans and illustrations in one hour. The students came up with innovative ideas and participated with great zeal and enthusiasm. They put in their efforts and decorated the simple paper with their serious concerns and emotions in their expressions and very creatively wrote different messages using different calligraphic styles. Mr. Amar Nath Kumar addressed the students about the cause and emphasised on the necessity of awareness amongst the people about the need to be self-accountable to the society and the nation. Dr. Salonee Priya, the Associate Dean, reiterated the need to bring about awareness of the rights and duties of the individual in curbing corruption and congratulated the students for their active participation.

The English department faculty encouraged the students to participate in more such events and appreciated their efforts. The entries were judged by the faculty members on the parameters of relevance with the theme, originality, creativity, enactment and clarity of message. To encourage the students, it was decided that the best slogans would be displayed on the Department’s board. Lastly, the winners were announced and certificates were distributed for winning and participating and their slogans were displayed. The first prize went to Ayushi Kainthola (Sec B) and Ayush Negi (Sec A). The second rank was held by Hemanshi Jhamb and Prerna Chadha of Sec B. The third prize went to Rupesh of Sec A and Avneen of Sec B. Consolation prizes were given to Bhumika and Kritika of Sec A and Keshav Bhadana of Sec B. The Dean and other faculty members thanked all the participants for their enthusiastic spirit of participation and advised them to be the real contributing members of the nation following such purposeful goals.
